CORTEC/ECOCORTEC® IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE...

1st Cortec Corporation / EcoCortec's European Sales & Product Training

Are you a new member of Cortec team or current distributor looking for new ideas and product information? It is with great pleasure we invite you to attend the Cortec Corporation/EcoCortec's European Sales & Product Training, which for the first time will be held at EcoCortec, Croatia on May 24th and 25th, 2016.

We welcome Distributors and Partners who would like additional training or an introduction to our products! You will have the opportunity to tour the EcoCortec® facilities and meet the people that make a difference – production, sales, marketing, research and development, testing laboratories, all creating our culture of excellence. Training is the unique opportunity to learn the technology and create tried and true methods of introducing Cortec® technology to customers. You will learn the chemistry behind the VpCl® product line, its benefits, and how it compares to the competition. Product applications and case histories will be shown.
