PRESS RELEASE

Cortec® Unveils New Website for Micro-Corrosion Inhibiting Coatings™ Powered by Nano VpCI®!

Cortec's new coatings website offers more direct access to information about Cortec's assortment of patented Vapor phase Corrosion Inhibiting (VpCI®) coatings for temporary or permanent application.

Visitors to the home page can find an overview of these coatings or peruse Cortec's new VpCI® coatings brochure. The "Products" tab provides an easy way to click through descriptions of these coatings or drill down to view detailed product data sheets. A sidebar announces upcoming events in the coatings world and the latest articles featuring Cortec® VpCI® coatings. Those interested in learning more can reach a coatings specialist by submitting the form under the “Contact Us” tab.

Go to the new coatings website to see Cortec's new VpCI® coatings brochure!

With this new website, Cortec® looks forward to providing more streamlined information and improved service to its coating customers.

To view the new website, please visit:
