

EcoCortec® - Huge Success at FachPack 2019 Exhibition!

In September, EcoCortec® exhibited at FachPack, one of the most important European packaging exhibitions and one of the largest in the world dedicated to the packaging industry. FachPack brings together more than 1,500 exhibitors in 12 exhibition halls with approximately 45,000 trade visitors from packaging-intensive sectors. The EcoCortec®/Cortec® Europe team was present at a beautiful new booth with a sleek contemporary design. We are thrilled to say that this was one of the most successful exhibitions so far. Visitor interest in EcoCortec's products was so strong that our team had a full time of answering questions, displaying our product samples, and giving deeper insight about Cortec's technologies to numerous visitors. Interest in Cortec's bio-film technology (Eco-Corr Film®, Eco Works®, Eco Film®) was especially high, and our team did its best to offer a closer look at these environmentally safe packaging solutions pioneered by Cortec®. FachPack enabled us to connect directly with members of production, management and product development from key players in the market. Among these, our team was happy to welcome representatives from the world's largest automotive companies. Heavy traffic at EcoCortec's booth also gave us the opportunity to inform potential customers and distributors about the benefits of VpCI® packaging solutions and operations at our Croatian plant in Beli Manastir.
