Cortec® Corporation in partnership with National Checking Company (Saint Paul, MN) and Al-Pack Enterprises (Moncton, NB), attended and exhibited at the 17th Annual United States Composting Council (USCC) Conference and Exhibition at the Westin Galleria in Houston, TX. The three companies have long supported the rapidly growing organics diversion industry and hosted nearly 25 customers and partners during the 3 day conference.

The 17th Annual USCC Conference once again had record setting attendance, exhibitor participation, and sponsorship. At the conference Cortec®, National Checking, and Al-Pack highlighted advances in certified compostable bags and films including National Checking's full line of stock Earthsafe™ brand can liners for the hospitality industry, Al-Pack's retail packages, and their world's first commercially available drawtape closure bag.

Cortec® and their partners are proud to participate in such a valuable technical conference and to showcase the widest range of certified compostable flexible films in the industry. Cortec's offering of Eco Film®, Eco Works®, Eco Wrap®, and Eco-Corr® allow more generators of "waste" to participate in organics diversion—keeping materials out of incinerators and landfills and supporting sustainable community practices.
